Bolton Will Share a Framework to Optimize Your Unique CEO Brand

MINNEAPOLIS (March 16, 2011) – Chuck Bolton, a C suite-level executive and top team coach, nationally recognized author, speaker and president of The Bolton Group LLC (www.TheBoltonGroup.com), will be a keynote speaker at AceTech Ontario's 2011 Annual CEO Retreat on June 1 at the Westin Trillium House, Blue Mountain, Ontario. Geared toward the unique needs of chief executives, this retreat is targeted to CEOs of growth-oriented, technology-based companies who seek to optimize their performance and potential.

Bolton was selected for his extensive experience working with CEOs to help them deliver top results, create greater value and develop their own unique brands, notes Jo Ann Dizzy, executive director of AceTech. "Chuck has an innovative way of looking at the CEO from a leadership and marketing perspective, and helping them to understand that their behaviours and reputation can have a tremendous impact on company performance," she says.

During Bolton's keynote presentation and subsequent CEO workshop on June 1, 2011, he will guide CEOs through the necessary steps to understanding the keys that differentiate A-level CEOs, building their own unique CEO brand and creating a marketing strategy around that brand, and producing greater value in their organizations.
